

Service is the distinctive feature of de KLOKSLAG GROUP. De KLOKSLAG GROUP is not merely interested in supplying machines or production lines, but also in providing a number of important after-sales services, which are of great importance to you as a user:
manuals and maintenance instructions for your own service department, the supply of spare parts, support for your maintenance service and a maintenance contract for regular checks on machines or installations.

In short, the direct lines within the organization of de KLOKSLAG GROUP guarantee quick services.

DE KLOKSLAG

De KLOKSLAG GROUP is an efficient, streamlined group of companies based on the principle of independently operating companies which complement each other. So each individual company has its own core business and clientele.

De KLOKSLAG Engineering bv, Machinefabriek de KLOKSLAG bv and de KLOKSLAG Automatisering bv all operate from one business location in Bolsward. Production centres totalling 8000 m<sup>2</sup> with modern production facilities are available, as well as a new modern office building.

De KLOKSLAG's regular employees have all been specialists for more than 20 years in supplying complete systems for cheese production, semi-hard and hard types in particular. From the very beginning, de KLOKSLAG employees were involved in the first mechanization and computerization of cheese production. And today, too, they are engaged in designing and building modern, fully automatic installations.

Helped by the experience acquired in cheese production companies, de KLOKSLAG has also applied its know-how in many other food producing companies. For example, complete freezing lines for fish filleting companies and various washing systems for companies processing vegetables and fruit.

In case de KLOKSLAG GROUP itself does not have the specific parts in-house necessary for completing a project, we are still able to offer a complete package because, as a main contractor, we can obtain these parts from well-established suppliers. Consequently, the responsibility for proper and trouble-free functioning is all under one roof.

De KLOKSLAG GROUP sells its products all over Europe. Sales are effected directly from its location in Bolsward.

In an age in which one technological development follows another, it is essential to keep up-to-date.

Within de KLOKSLAG GROUP a great deal of attention is given to training staff members and to keeping up their skills. This, in fact, guarantees clients that the products they buy are state-of-the-art.

De KLOKSLAG GROUP's investments in modern means of production are closely connected with this idea, as is the advanced CAD system for making technical designs, which the group has at its disposal.
